CHRISTMAS TREE GUIDE 2017

Looking for the Perfect Christmas Tree?

You'll find it in Ashe County—the coolest corner of North Carolina!

Ashe County grows more Christmas trees than any other county in the United States. Our farmers have carefully cultivated Christmas trees on family-owned farms for generations. We are proud of our Christmas trees and we are proud of our farming heritage.

We'd like to share both with you. Visit us in Christmas tree country. Visit us in Ashe County, North Carolina.

Christmas begins with the tree and the tree begins in Ashe County!

Ashe County Choose & Cut Christmas tree farms offer a wide range of experiences. Whether you are looking for a small, peaceful setting with beautiful mountain vistas or an energetic, fun-filled family adventure, you can find it in Ashe County.

Our guide tells you about our farms and what you can expect to find at each one. Some farms let you tag your tree in the summer or fall, so that your perfect Christmas tree is waiting for you, ready to cut, when your family visits during the Choose & Cut season.

Stay Awhile in Christmas Tree Country

Ashe County is known as the coolest corner of North Carolina—for good reason! From spectacular mountain views, hiking trails, fishing, and canoeing on the New River (the oldest river in North America) to a thriving art and Old Time music scene to shopping for antiques, local artisan crafts, and home-grown goodies—Ashe County has it all. Whatever the season, you'll love Ashe County.

Quaint and picturesque throughout the year, Ashe County is especially magical during the holidays. Downtown West Jefferson glows with Christmas lights as the town welcomes visitors to Christmas tree country. Join us for our annual holiday parade, Christmas market, and the lighting of the community Christmas tree. To see the full calendar of events, visit www.VisitWestJefferson.org.
